

Sinclair Broadcasting is attempting to smear John Kerry by forcing their stations to air the Anti-Kerry "documentary" "Stolen Honor" within days before the election, without showing the other side of the coin by showing "Going Upriver" a pro-Kerry documentary consecutively or in a similar time slot. Sinclair Broadcasting operates on a position on the dial that is owned by the public and receives this airtime for free, therefore they are obligated to act in a non-partisan manner as closely as is possible. Their potential mis-behavior in this matter should be observed and remembered when license renewal time comes around. Currently they are refusing to answer their phone.
